Let's vibe to the rhythm of Sly & The Family Stone! These aren't just tunes; they're soul-stirring spells that'll teleport you straight to the dance floor.

“Dance To The Music”:

It wasn't just a song; it was a call to liberation. Imagine the whole universe groovin'—stars, planets, and all.

“I Want To Take You Higher”:

Close your eyes, Feel that bassline? It's not just earthly vibrations; it's a celestial elevator. This anthem transcended boundaries, lifting souls to cosmic heights. You're not just dancing; you're ascending.

“Family Affair”:

the ultimate musical family reunion. Black, white, male, female—all in this one funky tribe. They weren't just singing; they were weaving a tapestry of unity.

“Thank You (Falettinme Be Mice Elf Agin)”:

Say it fast, say it slow—this track is a funky mantra. It whispered secrets of self-discovery and resilience.

EVERYDAY PEOPLE PROJECT

The Everyday People Project will travel to cities across America spreading love and unity through the music by the legendary Sly and The Family Stone under the direction of its co-founder and Rock n Roll Hall of Famer, Jerry Martini.

Sly and the Family Stone, formed in San Francisco (in 1966), rising quickly to International fame playing funk, soul, R&B, rock and psychedelic music. Led by singer-songwriter, record producer and multi-instrumentalist Sly Stone, and included Stone's brother Freddie Stone on guitar and sister Rose on keys, co-founder, Jerry Martini on saxophone, Larry Graham on bass, the late Cynthia Robinson on trumpet, and drummer Greg Errico, the first multi-gender and multi-racial touring band.

Today, The Family Stone Band under the direction of Jerry Martini, tour worldwide to unite diverse communities and pass on the music of Sly and the Family Stone to future generations. The music continues to inspire everyday people to love one another through the words of peace, love and spreading positive energy that makes you feel good.

The Everyday People Project spreads love and human kindness through community partnerships that support music and art programs in marginalized communities. The Everyday People Project will tour cities with the greatest needs and provide a pre-determined % of ticket sales to organizations that provide vital services in the community.

The Family Stone Band and Friends are driven to unite "Everyday People" in MUSIC.

Their album “STAND”? It’s not just an album; it’s a National Treasure, preserved in The United States Library of Congress. Plus, it waltzed right into The Grammy Hall of Fame.

Their influence didn’t stop there. These legends left their funky fingerprints all over the music industry. Artists worldwide paid homage, sampled their beats, and covered their tracks. :

Michael Jackson: Moonwalked to their rhythm.

Queen Latifah: Dropped rhymes over their grooves.

Prince: Borrowed their cosmic funk.

The Jackson 5: Got their moves from The Family Stones playbook.

Miles Davis: Even the jazz cats nodded to their genius. And that’s just the tip of the vinyl iceberg.

From Run DMC to Dr. Dre, from Snoop Dogg to Madonna, Sly & The Family Stone’s legacy echoes through time.
