EVERYDAY PEOPLE TOUR DAY OF SERVICE
HONORING SLY STONE

Everyday People Day of Service Honoring Sly Stone

Mayor of Las Vegas Shelley Berkley has officially proclaimed October 24, 2025, as Everyday People Day of Service, honoring Sylvester Stewart aka “Sly Stone,” a music genius whose music continues to inspire everyday people to STAND for peace, unity, and equality.

The City of Las Vegas is part of the historic beginnings of Sly and the Family Stone performing its first concert in Las Vegas, NV 57 years ago in 1967. Right after signing with Epic Records, Sly and the Family Stone played a tour at the Pussycat-A-GO-GO, during which time they tightened up their famous sound. During their days off they recorded their debut album, "A Whole New Thing," at CBS in Los Angeles, which was released on October 1, 1967.

"We are living in unprecedented times . . .Sly and the Family Stone have been here before."

"The Family Stone carries on the legacy of the biggest band in American history through storytelling and keeping the music alive in the hearts of everyday people around the world. Let's join forces in uniting everyday people to STAND together to solve problems in their communities."

Rock and Roll Hall of Fame Inductee/Founding Member of Sly and the Family Stone

Everyday People Day of Service Honoring Sly Stone

Sly and the Family Stone, formed in San Francisco (1966), made history as America's first major multi-racial, multi-gender touring band. Their infectious blend of funk, soul, R&B, rock, and psychedelia propelled them to global fame. Fronted by the visionary Sly Stone, the band's original lineup included his brother Freddie Stone (guitar), sister Rose Stone (keyboards), Jerry Martini (saxophone), Larry Graham (bass), Greg Errico (drums), and the late, great Cynthia Robinson (trumpet). Sly and the Family Stone's music helped influence and shift the landscape of popular music in ways that still resonates today.

The Family Stone is the only band officially authorized by the legendary Sly Stone to carry on the legacy of his iconic music. Carrying the torch forward is the powerhouse vocalist, Phunne Stone, daughter of Sly Stone and Cynthia Robinson. The Family Stone remains true to its original mission; to uplift and unite. We are all everyday people; as the message in the music calls us to understand . . . “WE GOT TO LIVE TOGETHER”.

Everyday People Tour Day of Service Honoring Sly Stone
